

Tejs Binderup

Tejs Binderup is Deputy Permanent Secretary responsible for Food, Fisheries, and International Affairs in the Danish Ministry of Environment and Food.

Tejs Binderup has a Master's degree in Political Science (Cand Scient. Pol.) from the University of Aarhus. He started working at the Ministry of Food, Agriculture and Fisheries in 2009. From 2012 to 2014, he worked as Private Secretary to the Minister and from 2014 to 2015 he worked as Head of Department at the Ministry of Food, Agriculture and Fisheries. From 2015 to 2018, he worked as Head of Department at the Ministry of Environment and Food until he began working as Deputy Permanent Secretary, the position he has today.