

Katarína Belobradová MSc

Katarína Belobradová is Director General at Ministry of Environment of the Slovak Republic. She is responsible for Directorate for Environmental Policy, EU and International Affairs.

She holds the degree of M.Sc. Geo-Information Science from Wageningen University. Since June 2015 she coordinated and integrated Trans-European Transport Network Policy, managed EMOS and Road Safety for the European Commission. Prior to European Commission she was granted contract by UNDP, Conservation International and WWF. Besides data policy she gained broad expertise in applied earth and environmental sciences as product and project manager from private sector to governmental and non-governmental organisations at the international level.