

Anna Otmalm

Anna Otmalm is Senior Advisor at the Department for Sustainability at the Swedish Environmental Protection Agency, SWEPA. The Department's remit is to promote sustainable development and coordinating knowledge development in SWEPA, and its EU and international work and cooperation.

Anna has a degree in Systems science from the Mid Sweden University. She took up duties in the SWEPA in 2014 and has managed a program in implementing dataflows related to the Industrial Emission Directive, and later was head of an Environmental Data Unit, and Director of a Department for Environmental Analyses. Prior to being employed at Swepa she was leading different departments, units and programmes at the Swedish Administrative Boards, at the Swedish Public Employment Service and at the Swedish Social Insurance Agency.