Title: Framework service contract for the provision of printing, layout and design services

Question 1

In the paragraph 6.2.2. of the Tender Specification you ask the contractor to use plant-based printing inks, water-based varnish and paper with an environmentally recognised label.

In case of varnish: we are most often using so called "engine varnish" but no "dispersion varnish". Does it mean our proposal will not be considered as eligible one?

Answer 1

According to Article 6.2.2 of the Tender specifications "The contractor is required to use plant-based printing inks, water-based varnish and paper with an environmentally recognised label". The use of water based (dispersion) varnish is therefore an absolute requirement.
