

Felice Cappelluti

Felice Cappelluti is senior officer in the Office of the Minister's Diplomatic Adviser of the Italian Ministry of Environment and Energy Security (IMEES), dealing with support to Minister's participation to international events and activities.

After some years spent in working on graphic and architectural design and urban planning, since 1998 he has been working in the Ministry of Environment and Energy Security, ranging among different sectors such as biodiversity, nature conservation and protected areas, environmental assessments, international environmental cooperation, generally in charge of EU and international issues.

Before current appointment in the EEA MB, he had been already alternate MB member from February 2017 to April 2018.

Among his past assignments: Italian focal point for Life Nature projects (2005-2015), NFP for Convention on Biological Diversity (2010-2015) as well as for other biodiversity related MEAs (2006-2014), member of the Working Party on International Environmental Affairs for Biodiversity at the Council of the European Union (2010-2015) and chair during the semester of Italian Presidency (second half of 2014), deputy-head of the Unit for International Cooperation of the Directorate for Sustainable Development (2018-2021), chair of the Donor's Steering Committee of the Initiative for Climate Action Transparency (2019-2021). He was also involved for long time in EU financial programming activities. From August 2020 to December 2021 he was also in charge as Ministry's Mobility manager.

He has a master degree and qualification in Architecture and several post-degree diplomas in European public management and economic policy and sustainable territorial development.